

Dr. Jiletta Kubena is an Assistant Professor and Program Director of the Criminology and Criminal Justice Program at Our Lady of the Lake University in San Antonio, Texas. Dr. Kubena earned her Bachelor of Science in Criminal Justice from the University of North Texas and her Master of Arts and Doctorate in Criminal Justice (specialization in criminological theory) from Sam Houston State University.

Dr. Kubena's professional background includes working with both state and federal law enforcement agencies. She has also held positions in juvenile crime prevention organizations and as a licensed private investigator.

Dr. Kubena served as the Collaboration Editor on Jurg Gerber and Eric L. Jensen's Encyclopedia of White Collar Crime (Westport, CT: Greenwood Publishing Group). She has also published in the areas of juvenile delinquency, female offending, and white-collar crime. She is currently working with local, federal, and private community correction agencies on issues facing formerly incarcerated offenders re-entering society.